ConocoPhillips obtains highest possible score in the ISS Environmental and Social QualityScore

We obtained the highest possible score in both the Environmental and Social QualityScore assessment by Institutional Shareholder Services Inc. (ISS), the world’s leading provider of corporate governance and responsible investment solutions.

The Environmental and Social QualityScore measures the quality of the data provided by companies on environmental and social issues, based on guiding frameworks and emerging standards. Each company is rated on key disclosures, omissions, and transparency. These scores provide an indication of relative quality compared to industry peers and are supported by factor-level data. Scores also can indicate best-in-class disclosure practices on topics including:

- Management of environmental risks and opportunities
- Human rights
- Carbon and Climate
- Labor, Health and Safety
