OIL PIPELINE TARIFF FILING

Honorable Debbie-Anne Reese, Secretary
Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
888 1st Street N.E., Room 1-A
Washington, D.C. 20426

Dear Ms. Reese:

Kuparuk Transportation Company (“Kuparuk”) submits the following schedules to be effective January 1, 2026, in compliance with the Interstate Commerce Act and the rules and regulations of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (“FERC”).

Tariff Number:

F.E.R.C. No. 17.17.0 (cancels F.E.R.C. No. 17.16.0)

Effective Date:

January 1, 2026

This tariff is issued to revise Kuparuk’s rates, effective January 1, 2026, pursuant to the Kuparuk Settlement Agreement, which was filed with FERC on May 20, 2011, in Docket No. IS10-209-000, and approved by the Commission on August 15, 2011. See Kuparuk Transportation Company, 136 FERC ¶ 61,102 (2011).

The Kuparuk Settlement Agreement requires Kuparuk to file by December 1 of each year new interstate rates that are no higher than the applicable maximum rates for interstate transportation under the Kuparuk Settlement Methodology (“KSM”). The KSM is a cost-based rate methodology that establishes rate ceilings based on projections of pipeline costs and throughput subject to true-up to actual costs and throughput levels in future rates once the actual values are known using a “Net Carryover” mechanism. The specific calculations required by the KSM are set forth in the Kuparuk Settlement Agreement that was filed on May 20, 2011, in FERC Docket No. IS10-209-000.

The proposed rates for 2026 calculated pursuant to the KSM are $0.357 per barrel from the Kuparuk River Unit origin and $0.256 from the Milne Point origin. The proposed rates represent a decrease from the 2025 rates, which were $0.396 from the Kuparuk River Unit origin and $0.290 from the Milne Point origin. The decrease in rates is primarily due to the effect of the Net Carryover mechanism. Pursuant to the Kuparuk Settlement Agreement, the detailed support for the proposed rates, which is confidential, was provided to the parties to the settlement prior to the filing of the rates.

Kuparuk requests that any protests or complaints, which in any way affect this tariff publication, be transmitted concurrent with their filing to the following persons at the contact information shown below:
